

Stock & Asset Giving

One way to maximize your giving to Reasonable Faith in the most tax-advantaged way is through stock and asset giving. Reasonable Faith has partnered with National Christian Foundation (NCF) to easily enable our financial partners to give in this way.

Giving appreciated assets, such as marketable securities or real estate, can be a win-win for both our financial partners and Reasonable Faith. This method allows you to maintain current cash while reducing income and/or estate tax liabilities. The recipient acquires a gift that can be sold at fair market value—free of taxes. The following chart illustrates the benefits of giving appreciated assets.

The Benefits of Giving Appreciated Assets vs. Giving the Proceeds from Selling the Asset
	Sell Stock, Contribute Proceeds	Gift of Appreciated Stock
Current Market Value ($10,000 Cost Basis)	$ 50,000	$ 50,000
Capital Gain Tax on Sale (20% Fed/State)	- $ 8,000	- N/A
Net Deductible Funds to Charity	= $ 42,000	= $ 50,000

How Does NCF Work?

Often giving, though a simple concept, can be quite complex. There are tax-related issues and administrative challenges, and time is required to benefit multiple charitable recipients. NCF provides a comprehensive solution to both small and large donors who desire to maximize their flexibility and minimize the administrative duties of making charitable contributions. NCF's purpose is to serve faithful Christian stewards and the organizations they support as a partner in advancing the Kingdom of God.

Donors wishing to utilize the benefits of NCF establish their own Donor Advised Fund at NCF. From this Fund they can make charitable contributions similar to having established their own private foundation but without the restrictions and administrative burden often associated with private foundations. NCF operates on a low budget, holding expenses down while maintaining services to donors at a high professional level.

Because the National Christian Foundation is recognized as a public charity by the Internal Revenue Service, you have a great deal of flexibility in making distributions from your Fund. Your donation will go through NCF directly to your Donor Advised Fund where you can then have it distributed to Reasonable Faith or any other non-profit charity.

HOW DO I GIVE THROUGH NCF

You do not need to open a fund with NCF to give stock to Reasonable Faith. Stock gifts can be made to the National Christian Foundation for The Reasonable Faith Single Charity Fund (#4256938). The attached Letter of Intent has NCF's various brokerage accounts to which transfers can be made. It also asks for the information we need to credit the Reasonable Faith Fund appropriately and in a timely manner.

If you want to give a more complex asset such as royalties or privately held business interest, NCF can work with you on an individual basis to achieve your goals.

What About Other Donor Advised Funds?

If you already have a Donor Advised Fund through another organization, you can donate just as easily through those funds. Simply contact us at info@reasonablefaith.org to inform us of your intent to donate through your Donor Advised Fund.
